WILL THE CITY COUNCIL PAY?-"The Police Commissioners have engaged counsel and now there is to be a legal fight between themselves and the Mayor—this time over a trivial question," and "it must be remembered that whether the Commissioners or the Mayor wins, the city looses every time." Referring to these extracts, quoted from an editorial in the Gazette of the from an editorial in the Gazette of the 2nd instant, City Auditor Price today said if the attorneys were paid out of the city treasury it would be only upon the order of the City Council, and recalled his action in 1897 when the Mayor and Commissioners agreed to disagree. That case, it will be remembered, was heard before Judge Keith on March 24, prior to which the Auditor had a conversation with the gentleman then in the Mayor's office and stated that the city should not be and stated that the city should not be expected to pay counsel on either side, as the City Council was not a party to the controversy, and could not be made one without its consent. The Mayor admitted the Auditor's position Mayor admitted the Auditor's position to be a correct one (and Council endorsed it by subsequent legislation), but added that of course he would have to, through his attorney, defend his action, and that if he was financially able he would not ask the city to assist him, but he would have to do so. On May 11 the City Council ordered the payment of the Mayor's attorney, but considerable debate ensued over pay-ment of two bills of the Commissioners. On May 25 Mr. Caton introduced in Council a resolution appropriating $250 toward the contingent expenses of the polics board. He thought these bills should be paid not directly by the city but by the police board.

Mr. John H. Greene agreed with Mr. Caten but he did not wish to recognize the authority of the police board to bind the city. He thought that the board should have referred the matter to the City Council. Mr. McCuen did not see why it was needed to pay only one lawyer on one side and two lawyers on the other. He favored making the commissioners pay their own attoracy's fee. A month later, June 23, when the resolution was reported favorably there was more dibate. In the Board of Aldermen Mr. Ballenger said "If the $250 was for the purpose of paying the two lawyers who went to Richmond to argue the case between the Mayor and the police board he was opposed to paying the bills. The commissioners should have come to Council for advice, and inasmuch as they should pay the bills themselves. Mr. Burke said the members of the beard had acted in good faith.

The resolution was passed, Mr. Ballenger police board. He thought these bills

Burke s.id the members of the board had acted in good faith.

The resolution w s passed, Mr. Ballenger giving evidence of his sincerity and consistency in voting against it. Continuing, Auditor Price said: "As Corporation Attorney Boothe, the law efficer of the city, who is elected to represent the City Council, when under the charter the corporation is "to plead and be impleade", prosecute and defend all causes, complaints and actions, real, personal or mixed, "was not engaged in the controversy, it must be assumed to the Mayor and commissioners had arranged matters with their attorneys, although he (the Auditor) has had no conversation with either upon the subject, and consequently knows nothing of their intentions.

MISSING BRICKS .- A propos of the prevailing improvement epidemic, attention may be called to the fact that on nearly every square in the city s brick or so is wanted in pavements, which renders such sidewalks unsightly while in rainy weather pools of water are formed in the spaces between the other bricks for nocturnal pedestrians to tread in or in which ladies soil their skirts. In some places but one bri k is missing; in others several. The law requires owners of property to replace them after ressonable notice under penalty of a fine. Several years ago the Mayor undertook to enforce the law and sent out a large number of notifications. Some owners of property complied with the order immediately, but others, who etrain at gnats and swallow camels, refused and consulted lawyers as to the validity of the law. Being told that it could not be enforced they made no attempt to obey it, and the authorities, not desiring to make the authorities, not destring to destrict the city a party to expensive litigation, desisted from pushing the matter any and inducing people to start others. desisted from pushing the matter any further. No principle was involved to warrant such a procedure on the part of people who were merely called upon to spend from one to fifty cents a piece towards improving their own property. It is not known whether this brick thrown in the dark will strike some who now are enthusiastic promoters of public improvements, but if it does it will show the sincerity of such if they begin repairs before their own doors at once, and then they will be better qualified to take in the vista for more colossal movements.

RELIEF FOR JACKSONVILLE.-The officials of the War Department, in or-der to relieve the sufferings of the homeless residents in Jacksonville, last night shipped over the Southern Railway on a special train donated by the officials of that road five car loads of while excursion steamers made frearmy tents. The arrangements for the transportation of the tents were in starting Saturday evening at 5 o'clock, gangs of laborers were kept busy at the Government storehouse in St. Asaph loading the cars. The train left this city shortly after 12 o'clock Saturday, and in order that no delay in the transportation of the much-needed articles might ensue the train will have right of way to the ill-fated city. It is stock is $75,000, and privillege is grantand in order that no delay in the transportation of the much-needed arright of way to the ill-fated city. THE FORTY HOURS DEVOTION .- The solemn devotion of the forty hours which commenced in St. Mary's Cathowhich commenced in St. Mary's Catholic Church on Friday lest was concluded yesterday at the 10:30 o'clock mass, with impressive ceremonies. That mass was celebrated by Father Ahern, of Richmond, and Father H. J. Cutler was deacon and Father Patrick, of Warrenton, was sub-deacon. Father Devitt, of Georgetown College, delivered an able discourse. The mass was followed by benediction of the blessed sacrament. A procession then started through the church, in which started through the church, in which about fifty little girls, dressed in white, and carrying bouquets of flowers, par-ticipated. Half a dozen of the girls preceding the priests distributed flowers in the aisles as the proces-

JONES'S POINT CROSSING.—The carriageway the Southern Railway Company was ordered to construct across their track on Lee street extended at Jones's Point came to a standatill as soon as the northern approach was con-structed. On the south side a very steep bank prevents anything in the shape of a vehicle from going on the point. Be sides this barrier a gondola car is kept standing athwart the crossing at all times, which a State law forbids under a penalty of ten dollars fine. The resolution of the City Connell which resolution of the City Council which ordered the construction of the crossing provided for one hundred dollars fine in the event of the company failing to obey the mandate.

MEETING TONIGHT.—A called meeting of the Business Men's League will be held tonight at 8 o'clock when plans will be suggested as to the best manner of getting manufacturers to locate in this city. All citizens interested in the movement are requested to be present. The recent ripple in the manufacturing interests of this city has encouraged many of our people, and it is believed that could they be brought together and practical and conservative measures formulated much could be done

FIRST BLOOD .- A dispute took place at the old court house voting precinct this morning between an enthusiastic supporter of Mr. Montague and an equally ardent admirer of Mr. Swanson. High words followed until blows were resorted to and the Swanson man was knocked out. A warrant was sub-sequently issued for the apprehension of the parties who will answer the charge of fighting at tomorrow's session of the Police Court.

YESTERDAY was an ideal Sunday, the weather having been bright and the temperature pleasant. The streets were thronged with people—many of whom were visitors—all day and long into the night. THE ELECTION today has been conducted in a very determined manner, although there has been no particular excitement manifested. The champions of both Messrs. Swanson and Montague, however, have left no stones unturned in order to bring out every vote possible and ticket holders was layers button. and ticket-holders, wayiayers, button-holers, &c., have been in evidence. Carriages have been kept running to and fro since subrise, and tickets and circulars bave been pushed under the door of every white voter in Alexandria. All day yesterday groups of men dis-cussed the claims of their respective champions. There was no political issue involved; it was a mere matter of choice between two good men, and it was a hard matter for the friends of either to find anything upon which to base an argument. Today's election will be the first selection of delegates to the State convention at Norfolk, Aug-ust 14, and the result will be watched with great interest throughout the with great interest throughout the Commonwealth. This city will have twenty votes in the convention. The outcome of today's balloting cannot be foretold. The Montague men say they are sure of a majority and the Swanson men say likawise. The vest-pocket vote, however, is an uncertain quantity which but few can size up. There has been a vigorous exchange of circulars and newspapers between the two sides, and efforts to array the labor vote against Mr. Swanson are not viewed against Mr. Swanson are not viewed with apprehension by the friends of that gentlemen. The vote today will probably be very large. The number of votes cast at 4 o'clock was as follows:

FISHTOWN is slowly settling down to its normal condition. Affairs there this morning lacked animation. A few cutters were at work and but one country wagon was to be seen. Prices of fish are weaking slowly, although receipts are still light. Some of the packers say the decline in the fish trade here has in a measure been caused by discriminating rates against Alexan-dria and in favor of Washington, which naturally caused people living in the back country to send their o.ders to the latter city. This has, how-ever, all been rectified, and the trade may in future years come back to Alexandris.
